PROS III Monthly Metric Report

The PROS III Monthly Metric report consists of supply and maintenance data for any given country with comparisons against the entire worldwide position. At the beginning of each month, the statistics used by this report are computed and stored by country, timeframe ("overall" and "last month"), level of supply/type delay (see table below), and type support ("Supply" or "Maintenance")

User Inputs

- 1 Select the military branch for which the report will be produced
- 2 Select a country for which the report will be produced
- 3 The user must also specify a date range. For the Last Month figures (both individual and world wide), the monthly figures for all months within the specified date range will be compiled and reported. The "Totals" figures (both individual and world wide) will be the totals calculated at the time of the latest month in the date range. For example, if the date range selected was from January, 2001 to March, 2001, the figures in the last month columns would be a combination of the figures calculated for January, February, and March of 2001. The Totals column would reflect the overall statistics compiled in March, 2001
